April 12, 2018

Dear Dr. Ofoosuwa Abiola,

Howard University's Research Symposium celebrating the breadth of research being conducted across campus held on Thursday, April 12, 2018 was a success partly because of you. Please accept my sincere gratitude on behalf of my office and the Research Symposium Committee for the support you provided for this tremendous event. Your assistance, particularly with judging in the various categories, was invaluable and instrumental in delivering a high-quality event. Your efforts on this event are immensely appreciated. Again, we thank you for taking time out of your schedule to spend it with us. I invite you to join us for next year's Research Symposium.

Sincerely,

Nicole Retland Moreland
